Transportation Barriers Faced by Patients in a General Pediatrics Clinic: The Impact of Urban Sprawl

William Fesmire, MD Candidate 2025 and Jason Yaun, MD

Evaluate the social determinants of health, transportation access, and appointment attendance among patients of UT Le Bonheur Pediatric Specialists (ULPS) General Pediatrics Clinic in Memphis, Tennessee. Determine how urban sprawl influences transportation barriers to healthcare access for pediatric patients so that we can best address those barriers in a city experiencing urban sprawl.

Improving Firearm Safety Awareness and Education in Inpatient Pediatric Encounters

Ramelle Glick, MD, Amanda Walker, MD and Kristin Bettin, MD

Recall that firearms are the leading cause of death in children. Recognize the role of pediatric providers in improving awareness of firearm safety. Discuss ways to incorporate firearm screening in pediatric inpatient admissions and provide education and gun locks for those with positive screens.

Examining the Impact of Caregiver Incarceration on ACE Score

Brandon Flicking, MD Candidate 2026 and Jason Yaun, MD

Examine the correlation between ACEs scores of children that have experienced incarcerated caregivers to children not having experienced incarcerated caregivers. Determine the risk for those that experienced an incarcerated caregiver to other ACEs. Provide direction for future research, policy considerations, and healthcare interventions for those children experiencing caregiver incarceration.
